The gale which struck Richmond in the afternoon was undoubtedly an off-shoot of, or perhaps the end of the direful evelone which devastated Florida. Georgia and South Carolina on Sunday. While the winds howled and whistled here as though they presaged a hurricane, they did very little harm.

There was a terrific storm on the Chesapeake bay, and Danville steamers were tossed about considerably, but they bravely breasted the billows, and after some delay reached West Point in safety. The crops seem to be but slightly damaged in the section lying between West Point and Richmond. Reports from other portions of the State traversed by the Danville system show that the storm did no serious injury, while the section through which the Chesapeake and Ohio railroad passes send equal as favorable tidings. The rains in the mountainous sections of the State were very heavy, and there was considerable waid.

Considerable wind.

PIRST NEWS FROM THE SOUTH.

Up to the present time all telegraphic communication has been cut off between here and Charleston, Savanuah, and other Southern cities, and the indications lead one to the belief that these places were terribly damaged by the storm. The telegraph wires in these sections of the Umon have all been blown down, and it is practically impossible to ascertain the exact loss of life and property. Yesterday afternoon the Richmond Fredericksburg and Potomae officials by means of "patch wires" were able to put themselves in communication with Rocky Mount, N. C., and Florence, but they obtained very little positive information relative to the cyclone. The assistant-superintendent indirectly received the following from a conductor on the fast mail, which left Charleston at 4 P. M. Monday, but it is hoped and believed that many of the particulars are exaggerated: "About every third house with top gone. Six feet of water under Atlantic Coast Line sheds. Two feet of water in Meeting and King streets. Gale blew a four-masted ship under our shed. Lots of debris and dead seabirds washed into the city. THE ACCOUNT OF A CONDUCTOR.

Passenger train No. 78 on the Coast Line due in Richmond on Monday at 6:49 p. m. did not reach the city until last night at 7 o'clock. It brought the first authentic news from Charleston, though the information is very meager. The windows of the Pullman attached to the train were shattered by a tree, and the car looked as though it had been "roughing it." Capt. O. F. Emerson, the conductor, said that he left Charleston at 9 o'clock Monday afternoon. At that time there were six feet of water at the depot, but it was reaching everywhere. The waves extended as far as the St. Charles Hotel. Capt. Emerson said that he had heard that 25 people lost their lives in the tempest at Charleston, while rumor had it that 500 had perished at Sullivan's Island. THE ACCOUNT OF A CONDUCTOR

GREENVILLE, N. C., Aug. 29.—Considerable of a storm prevailed here throughout the day yesterday and last night. A strong east wind blew most of the day, changing to the south in the evening. The east wind turned the current of the river up stream, backing the water to a height of three feet. This is something unheard of here before. Telegraph lines are down and communication cut-off. No damage is reported except blowing down of fences and trees and injury to crops. Rain fell in torrents for a short while in the afternoon, the fall measuring 1.25 inches in half an hour. There was another heavy rain last night. Anormation comes from Washington that the tide has reached the highest point there in years, water being up in several of the streets and buildings.

The power lodged in that committee was simply to report a proposition. The committee could not adopt closure. It could not fix the order of business without the consent of the House.

Delay in their appointment.—North Carelina Fretfulness.

[From our regular correspondent]

WASHINGTON. August 29.—The Private Secretary of the President, Mr. Thurber, informed Representative Swanson on Saturday last that the nominations of Messrs. Sheppard and Ryan to be the collectors of internal revenue for the Virginia districts would be sent to the Senate on Monday. They have not been occived there yet, but the delay is said to be due to the fact that the President expects to return to the city within a few days and then he wil close up these matters.

The North Carolinians in the city are urging early action on the attorneyship and the colectorship of internal revenue for the Eastern district of that State. The people are becoming decidedly freiful, it is said, over the long delay. There are several reasons for the delay. One is that the President has been too much occupied with other matters, and besides he has been quite unwell. Another reason is that the administration people have been disposed to go slow with appointments until the financial question is settled.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 29.—The Senate Committee on Finance this morning decided to report back to the Senate the Wilson repeal bill with a recommendation that the Voorhees bill, already on the Senate calendar, be substituted for it. The committee also resolved to set aside the national bank circulation bill, which is now unfinished business in the Senate, in favor of the Voorhees bill, and press the latter measure as rapidly as the temper of the Senate will permit. The difference between the House bil and the Voorhees bill is found in an attachment to the latter of a paragraph declaring that it is the policy of the United States to use both gold and silver as money metals and to gold and silver as money metals and to the rope and standard to the repeal bill.

The programme of the committe as far as it contemplates the setting aside of the national bank bill can only be carried out through the and of a majority in the Senate site, for the national bank bill cannot be withdrawn or set aside save through a majority vots in favor of consideration of the repeal bill.

The silver men in the Senate profess to be indifferent as to which bill is considered by the Senate, holding that the bank bill is almost as objectionable as the repeal bill; but there are indications that the programme will meet with prolonged resistance, nevertheless, and the silver men as y they will fight repeal at every step.

Chairman Voorhees reported the Voorhees bill at 12:15, and gave notice that he would call it up immediately.

A comparison of seven separate votes taken shows that at no time did the anti-silver men have less than 77 slear majority. Their greatest strength was shown on the 17 to 1 amendment, when the vote stood 17 to 1 amendment, when the vote stood 100 to 949—an anti-silver majority of 140. On the final passage of the bill the antis mustered the same strength as this, but owing to a desperate rally of the silver men their majority was cut down to 130. One of the surprises of the day was the lack of treasth of the 20 to 1 amendment.

VOORHEES BILL REPORTED AS SUB-STITUTE FOR WILSON MEASURE.

DANVILLE, VA., Aug. 29th.—The storm of Monday played havoe with the growing crops throughout this section. Tobacco was torn to pieces and leaves thrown into the road. The crop has been damaged nearly one-half.

Corn on the hill and the low grounds suffered greatly by being beat-down and stripped and washed up and broken down by the overflow of the creeks and river in the low grounds. The Dan river at this point is six feet high and still rising. The best judges say that the chances for bright wrappers in the present tobacco crop is almost entirely gone. Heavy washouts occurred on ahe Danville and Western Railroad, and the heavy rise in Smith river so damaged the bridge near Spray, that no trains could run over it.

These accidents prevented the arrival or departure of trains for Leaksville.

Invitations have been issued to the marriage of Miss Delia Bryan Page, of the University 'of Virginia, and 'Mr. James H. Johnson, of Birmingham, Ala., the cermony to take place in the University chapel on the 6th of September. A beautiful tribute of respect to the memory of the late Rev. William A. Williams has been adopted by the Baptist Church of this city, of which the deceased was for five years pastor. A resolution authorizing the ladies of the Baptist church to procure "unfermented wine," has been rescinded.

Some time during the latter part of last night while the storm with still raging, the residence of Mr. C. W. Rogers near this place, was discovered on fire, and although an alarm was promptly are available possible efforts made to exgiven and all possible efforts made to extinguish the flames, the building soon lay in a heap of ashes. Mr. and Mrs. Rogers and three children were thus turned out of doors in their night clothes. The house was comparatively new and contained five rooms. The origin of the fire at that time of night is not known. The cookroom adjoined the main building, and it is conjectured that the raging wind found sufficient entrance to kindle the sparks in the cooking stove into flames. No insurance.

No external remedy ever yet devised has so fully and unquestionably met these three prime conditions as successfully as Alicock's Porous Plasters. They are safe because they contain no deleterious drugs and are manufactured upon scientific principals of medicine. They are sure because nothing goes into them except ingredients which are exactly adapted to the purposes for which a plaster is requied. They are speedy in their action because their medical qualities go right to their work of releiving pain and restoring the natural and healthy performance of the functions of muscles, nerves and skin.
